The discs that shape a new era in modern food processing!

Not only did our Research and Development Department in Quartino in Ticino invent our legendary drawing cut for lasting freshness and to present irresistibly attractive cut food, but it has now also produced the first antimicrobial active disc with a global patent. A world first to revolutionise food processing.

Razor-sharp reasons that pull!

World innovation:
Antimicrobial and HACCPfriendly glass-fibre technology!

This «Chef de Cuisine» has 8 stars!

- * The anliker5 is cast from solid stainless steel – no more oxidation in the dishwasher and the best possible prerequisite for HACCP concept operations!
- * Antimicrobial – a first worldwide! anliker cutting discs are fabricated from antimicrobial active material. Our global patent sets new standards in kitchen hygiene.
- * Glass fibre technology: the anliker5's cutting discs are made from glass fibre composite material – a world first which prevents the discs from oxidising in the dishwasher and parts from warping.
- * anliker5 – it stands for easy, no-switch operation. There are no buttons or knobs and the machine's 45° ergonomic position is spot on for superb operator comfort.
- * The anliker5's induction motor and gear assembly are maintenance-free and need no servicing!
- * The anliker5 is reliable – so reliable that we happily provide a 5-year warranty for the motor and gear assembly.
- * Swiss quality product: anliker5 represents the best in innovative, sturdy and reliable Swiss quality.
- * The anliker5 with its drawing cut ensures that vegetables and fruit remain undamaged after cutting, stay fresh for longer and so retain their nutritional value and essential nutrients.
